Tom, a comic book artist, is in an unhappy relationship with his girlfriend, Mary. But he'd rather keep quiet than rock the boat. However, he receives a call from his dad, Paul, that his mother has passed away. Tom wants to return home to Minneapolis immediately but Mary insists they keep their plans and Tom should visit later. Tom insists on going, leading to their breakup. Lilly, an accountant, is on yet another business trip to Minneapolis when a delay leaves them stranded on the tarmac. After dealing with a bratty kid all flight long, she finally reaches a breaking point, resulting in her being escorted off the plane when it finally does reach the gate. Tom and Lilly shared the same flight to Minneapolis and meet again by chance at the post-wake buffet dinner. After realizing that they both can't/won't fly home, they decide to drive back together. Once on the road, Lilly convinces Tom to take a more scenic route home, exploring iconic American landscapes along the way. This trip ends up changing both of their lives in positive and unexpected ways.

This upcoming 'Alien' story is set on Earth, not too far into the future, and promises to be a thrilling combination of the timeless horror from the first film and the non-stop action from the second. Wendy (Chandler) is a hybrid with the mind of 10-year-old Marcy, who gave her consciousness, and a brand-new superhuman body. With the help of Kirsh and human scientist Dame Sylvia, Wendy learns to master her new body and becomes a determined leader for other hybrids, forging a new path for elevated beings. J.D. Hermit is a medic for Prodigy Tactical Response, the private army of the Prodigy Corporation. Despite struggling with a slightly anxious disposition and mourning the loss of his entire family, he musters the strength to be a hero in the face of danger, showing that he has been grossly underestimated. Charlie Heller is an ace cryptographer for the Company. He's a quiet man with a quiet job in a back office. But when terrorists shoot his fiancée in cold blood and Heller learns that the Agency has decided not to pursue those responsible, his life takes an abrupt turn. He was not a blackmailer but he will force the CIA's hand. He was not an assassin but he will penetrate the Iron Curtain with the intent to kill. Driven by an obsessive need for revenge, targeted for elimination by the CIA itself, Heller is an amateur with a one-in-a-million chance of success.

Two years of stalking the streets as the Batman, striking fear into the hearts of criminals, has led Bruce Wayne deep into the shadows of Gotham City. With only a few trusted allies — Alfred Pennyworth, Lt. James Gordon — amongst the city's corrupt network of officials and high-profile figures, the lone vigilante has established himself as the sole embodiment of vengeance amongst his fellow citizens. When a killer targets Gotham's elite with a series of sadistic machinations, a trail of cryptic clues sends the World's Greatest Detective on an investigation into the underworld, where he encounters such characters as Selina Kyle/aka Catwoman, Oswald Cobblepot/aka the Penguin, Carmine Falcone, and Edward Nashton/aka the Riddler. As the evidence begins to lead closer to home and the scale of the perpetrator's plans becomes clear, Batman must forge new relationships, unmask the culprit, and bring justice to the abuse of power and corruption that has long plagued Gotham City. The Battle of Henry Johnson follows the historical World War 1 event of the same name with intense accuracy as well as explores the motivations of its main combatant, Henry Johnson. May 14th 1918, young African American soldier's Henry Johnson and Needham Roberts were stationed alone on the front lines during the graveyard shift. They would be attacked by a platoon of German special forces. Even after Needham Roberts was injured, Henry fought on. When he ran out of grenades, he fired his gun. When his gun jammed, he used it as a club. When the gun broke in half, he turned to his knife. One man vs. a hundred in a blood pumping historical action-drama nightmare.

Set in 2008 during the economic recession and the "Yes We Can" summer, this gripping drama takes a unique angle in exploring the failures of the criminal justice system and the high incarceration rates related to marijuana offenses. The story revolves around Sofia (Maestro), a single Latina mother who runs an illegal marijuana business to make ends meet. However, her precarious situation takes a perilous turn when her nine-year-old son, Leo, strikes up an unlikely friendship with the new neighbors downstairs - a young white boy and his police officer grandfather. As the bonds between the children deepen, Sofia finds herself torn between protecting her family and the risks posed by her son's connection to law enforcement. This thought-provoking narrative delves into the complexities of race, social inequality, and the consequences of a flawed justice system, all against the backdrop of a nation grappling with financial crisis and political change. There have been 19 years of blood. The ruthless Grand Duke Orso is locked in a vicious struggle with the squabbling League of Eight, and between them they have bled the land white. While armies march, heads roll and cities burn, and behind the scenes bankers, priests, and older, darker powers play a deadly game to choose who will be king. War may be hell, but for Monza Murcatto (Ferguson), the Snake of Talins, the most feared and famous mercenary in Duke Orso's employ, it's a damn good way of making money, too. Her victories have made her popular - a shade too popular for her employer's taste. Betrayed, thrown down a mountain, and left for dead, Murcatto's reward is a broken body and a burning hunger for vengeance. Whatever the cost, seven men must die. Her allies include Styria's least reliable drunkard, Styria's most treacherous poisoner, a mass-murderer obsessed with numbers, and a Northman who just wants to do the right thing. Her enemies number the better half of the nation. And that's all before the most dangerous man in the world is dispatched to hunt her down and finish the job Duke Orso started.

Eight years ago, Citadel fell. The independent global spy agency - tasked to uphold the safety and security of all people - was destroyed by operatives of Manticore, a powerful syndicate manipulating the world from the shadows. With Citadel's fall, elite agents Mason Kane and Nadia Sinh had their memories wiped as they narrowly escaped with their lives. They've remained hidden ever since, building new lives under new identities, unaware of their pasts. Until one night, when Mason is tracked down by his former Citadel colleague, Bernard Orlick, who desperately needs his help to prevent Manticore from establishing a new world order. Mason seeks out his former partner, Nadia, and the two spies embark on a mission that takes them around the world in an effort to stop Manticore, all while contending with a relationship built on secrets, lies, and a dangerous-yet-undying love.

About a young Bob Dylan, during the period when he was poised to become folk music's most seminal figure. When Dylan instead embraced rock n roll and traded his acoustic guitar for an amp and an electric guitar, it created a huge outcry. And it cemented the status of rock music. Dylan was hailed as an acoustic prophet at age 19 when he exploded on the folk scene and seemed poised to follow in the footsteps of giants like Woody Guthrie and Pete Seeger (Cumberbatch). So when he plugged in his guitar at the 50th anniversary of the Newport Folk Festival on July 25, 1965, the eruption was profound. Some folk purists labeled Dylan a traitor, and there were even attempts to unplug his amp, emblematic of the discord between folk and the growing power of rock music. Others appreciated the evolution of the artist whose place in electrified rock was cemented by hits that included Like A Rolling Stone. The drama revolves around Dylan and his interaction with sixties music legends including Joan Baez (Barbaro), Seeger and everyone who was around during that time. Fanning will play the role of Dylan's early '60s love interest, university student and artist Sylvie Russo. (Nick Offerman mentioned for the role of Alan Lomax and Boyd Holbrook for Johnny Cash. | August 7 - October 16)

Neal Carey is not your usual private eye. A graduate student at Columbia University, he grew up on the streets of New York, usually on the wrong side of the law. Then he met a PI who introduced him to the Bank, an exclusive institution with a sideline in keeping its wealthy clients happy and out of trouble. They pay Neal's college tuition, and Neal gets an education that can't be found in any textbook, from learning how to trail a suspect to mastering the proper way to search a room. Now it's payback time. The Bank wants Neal to put his skills to work in finding Allie Chase, the rebellious teenage daughter of a prominent senator. The problem is that she's gone underground in the London punk scene. To get her back, Neal has to follow her into a violent netherworld where drugs run rampant and rage is the name of the game.

In this exquisite story of family, food, grief, and endurance, Michelle Zauner proves herself far more than a dazzling singer, songwriter, and guitarist. With humor and heart, she tells of growing up one of the few Asian-American kids at her school in Eugene, Oregon; of struggling with her mother's particular high expectations of her; of a painful adolescence; of treasured months spent in her grandmother's tiny apartment in Seoul, where she and her mother would bond, late at night, over heaping plates of food. As she grew up, moving to the East Coast for college, finding work in the restaurant industry, and performing gigs with her fledgling band - and meeting the man who would become her husband - her Korean-ness began to feel ever more distant, even as she found the life she wanted to live. It was her mother's diagnosis of terminal cancer, when Michelle was 25, that forced a reckoning with her identity and brought her to reclaim the gifts of taste, language, and history her mother had given her. It takes place on a long haul flight. And quite soon after take-off, the crew of the flight is telling the passengers that the entertainment system is down. They are now stuck on a 15 or 17 hour-long flight without any digital entertainment. They don't have the screens that we are so used to in our contemporary world. So it's going to be like a study of how human beings interact in this little laboratory that is a plane. It will look at how modern human beings are wrecked under these circumstances.

The dragons and Vikings are taking to the skies once again, this time in live-action. Long ago up North on the Island of Berk, the young Viking, Hiccup (Thames), wants to join his town's fight against the dragons that continually raid their town. However, his macho father and village leader, Stoik the Vast, will not allow his small, clumsy, but inventive son to do so. Regardless, Hiccup ventures out into battle and downs a mysterious Night Fury dragon with his invention, but can't bring himself to kill it. Instead, Hiccup and the dragon, whom he dubs Toothless, begin a friendship that would open up both their worlds as the observant boy learns that his people have misjudged the species. But even as the two each take flight in their own way, they find that they must fight the destructive ignorance plaguing their world. (Release Date: March 14, 2025)

Li is a skilled fighter and a student in Beijing who has his life uprooted when his mom decides that they're moving to Brooklyn for a work opportunity. Li is grappling with a past tragedy and bumping up against his doctor mother, who is dealing with the same tragedy but in an altogether different manner.

Li meets Mia who goes to his high school and her dad, Victor, who runs a pizza restaurant in his new neighborhood in Brooklyn and forms a bond with both. While his mom is against violence and Kung Fu, Li finds purpose by training Victor in the art and finds himself back in the ring as well.

In a dystopian near future, society is slowly decaying due to entropy. The internet is dying, highways are collapsing, and the number of suicides is increasing. Chuck Krantz (Hiddleston), a man whose face is everywhere, has died and his life story is told in reverse, from his death to his childhood. As his life is traced back, the possibilities and paths he could have taken widen, but as death approaches, they narrow. Chuck had brain cancer and his universe is collapsing, both inner and outer. This is a story of a man who lived for 39 years but will never get to see his son graduate from high school, and a reminder that each person has a world inside their mind that is lost when they die. The fragility of the human brain is not protected from the decay of the universe, and so the collapse of Chuck's universe mirrors the collapse of society around him.

In the captivating tale of "Lempo," troubled couples seeking solace embark on a transformative retreat in Finland, unaware of the lurking presence of an ancient goddess. Rooted in Finnish mythology, Lempo was once revered as the goddess of love and fertility. However, with the advent of Christianity, her image was twisted, casting her as a malevolent demon condemned to eternal damnation. As the couples grapple with the challenges of salvaging their relationships, they unwittingly become prey to the vengeful influence of this ancient deity, intensifying the already arduous task of making their marriages work. "Lempo" weaves an ensemble horror narrative that explores the depths of marital struggles, infused with the supernatural presence of the goddess of love gone awry. (August 14 - October 13)

Steven Bay is in the midst of deep hypnosis therapy with Dr. Harris when we meet him. He only remembers a dark road and the terrible accident that left him with a scar and no memory of his past. Soon, he is back on the dairy farm that he works for an old family friend named Bud O'Neil. But something is haunting Steven and while driving a combine he's sure he's run over a woman in a green dress. Once he's out of the combine she attacks him with a knife and we realize he's been dreaming it. But what is Bay unearthing with the help of Dr. Harris? Gretchen, a smart young vet technician, arrives to help treat some of the milking cows. And Bay finds himself attracted to her and a romance blooms. But the horrific dreams turn into hallucinations that escalate when Steven sees a man in black in a hallway who attacks him - but it's only another dream. Dr. Harris presses Bay to dig deeper. After an outing to a bar, in which Bay is attacked by a bar patron and beaten, he shows Gretchen a picture of himself as a young boy with his dog. He eventually asks Gretchen to bring him to the town where he grew up and she agrees to take him. But it isn't until Bay leaves the confines of the farm that he begins to realize what he's unearthed and the truth about his past.

A timely tale of three families during World War II whose worlds are turned upside down following Pearl Harbor. Divided by war, internment, and racism, but united by tragedy, these families from Hawaii, Tokyo, and Oregon try to make sense of their loss, and attempt to rebuild their shattered world. The film will tell the true story of Sadako Sasaki, who was a 2-year-old in Hiroshima when the atomic bomb was dropped on the city in 1945. She was later diagnosed with leukemia caused by exposure to radiation from the blast. She drew strength from a Japanese legend that, if she folded 1,000 paper cranes, she would be granted a wish, which in her case was to live. Eleanor Coerr, an aspiring journalist and young mother, learns of the girl and becomes determined to share her story with the world. The Canadian-American author's subsequent children's book went on to achieve classic status after its publication in 1977. It remains widely read. Sadako's legacy includes a statue of her holding a crane in the Hiroshima Peace Park.

Lillian Hall (Lange), an actress who is synonymous with Broadway. Throughout her long, illustrious career, she has never missed a performance—not for her daughter, not for illness, not for any reason. Yet in the rehearsals leading to her next Broadway production, her confidence is challenged. People and events conspire to take away her ability to do what she loves most. Suddenly, Hall is forced to reckon with the past and the price she has paid for the choices she made in her life and her art. Can she repair a lifetime of parental neglect? Can she reconcile herself to the demands of aging, its real and perceptual debilities? Can she navigate the shoals of self-doubt and loss, the betrayals of others and of her own body? Will she go down in the record books in a blaze of glory? Not without a fight. (May 22 - June 30)

This is the true story of the tough, gutsy Mildred Burke (Bett Rickards), the first world famous female pro wrestler and million dollar athlete, who becomes a champion of a growing entertainment franchise in the 1930s-1950s. Married to business partner Billy Wolfe (Lucas), the brilliant but vicious entrepreneur who pioneered women wrestlers, Mildred endured his infidelity and physical abuse despite the rise of her own power until she couldn't take it any more. With courage, panache and a loyal following, Mildred challenged the all-male hierarchy of the wrestling world as she became the first woman to headline over men. (w/t "MILLIE")

Sister Lu (Hildebrand) is at her lowest point in life, a substance abuser who no longer believes in God. She ends up on a train ride to Rome with her abusive mentor, Father Novak (Mulroney) who is the Head Exorcist of their Catholic Church. On the train, a young backpacker is possessed by a powerful Demon who is hellbent on killing everyone onboard. The Demon takes over the train and plans on derailing it. Father Novak arrogantly steps in and attempts to exorcise the Demon from the backpacker's body. Father Novak is quickly and violently torn apart. All the passengers turn to Sister Lu to save them. She's not ready for this level of responsibility but eventually finds the courage and gains her belief back. She must use everything she learned from her mentor to defeat the Demon. Together with the help of a few brave passengers, Sister Lu confronts the Demon. The task is heavy and very intimidating for her, knowing that she has given up on her faith, but many lives are in her hands. So she digs deep, gathers the little faith she has left to face her own Demons, which gives her the courage to officially step up, and fight alongside everyone onboard the high-speed train. Father Novak is the Head Exorcist of the Catholic Church. He's a strict Stentorian priest who is cold and self-important. He treats Sister Lu like a lowly assistant. He's an old-school man who refuses to acknowledge the teachings of the New World. When the Demon presents itself on the runaway train, Father Novak arrogantly believes he will be able to defeat the creature swiftly. Things do not go as he expects them to.

Things You Should Have Done is a hilarious, offbeat, dysfunctional family-sitcom from the unique comedy mind of Lucia Keskin. Chi (Keskin) is a self-confessed 'stay-at-home-daughter'. She lives a simple life; she eats crisps, makes weird vlogs and watches sitcoms, and that's all she's done for 20 years to be fair. But when her parents, who she is so dependent on, unexpectedly die, Chi is suddenly forced to fend for herself. Chi will inherit the house on condition she completes a list of 'Things You Should Have Done' left by her parents (everything from 'Pet a dog' to 'Get a job'). Meanwhile Chi's highly strung Auntie Karen (Hizli) wants nothing to do with her dependent pest of a niece, but very much wants the house she feels is rightfully hers! In each episode, Chi tackles something from the list and is unleashed on the locals of Ramsgate, who bring something new to Chi's understanding of life but leave wishing they'd never met her.

Follows a Chinese-Canadian father-daughter duo, Meg and Colin Wong. Meg, our lead character, is a queer and fiery tomboy who's just graduated high school and she's been a caretaker to her mentally-ill mother her entire life. Her father Colin is emotionally stoic, quiet, 100% nerdy, and secretly filled with so much goofiness and heart. The story is set in 2008. Meg arrives home from her last day of high school, and she realizes her mother, who's been diagnosed with schizophrenia, has run away from home, something that happens often. But this time, her mom doesn't return after a couple days which is odd. After investigating her mother's room, Meg finds a pamphlet for a mental health facility in California which causes her to worry. Colin is taking off for a road trip to Los Angeles to catch a solar eclipse and Meg decides to join him. Unbeknownst to Colin, Meg has a secret mission: to break her mom out of the mental health facility and bring her home.

The Trades is an exciting, hilarious new half-hour comedy series set in a working-class town where the stress and high risks of working in a refinery are balanced by the comedic, high-wire and outrageous antics of its plant workers. The giant flare stack of the Conch Industries refinery burns over Imperial Valley, Nova Scotia, like a beacon of economy, ingenuity, and incendiary personalities. Here is where we find Todd Stool, proud pipe-fitter for Union 519, who for over 20 years has worked his way up from apprentice to (almost) site manager – a job that he fully expects to be his when current site manager, Bennett, falls into a drug induced coma in the pilot. But unfortunately for Todd, Conch corporate office sends Chelsea – an aspiring hotshot executive – to Imperial Valley to clean shop, and unbeknownst to everyone (including Chelsea), shut down its operations. The cast of hilarious tradespeople and refinery workers create a community of pranksters, laborers, friends and enemies. Enter Todd's sister, Audrey, who finds the motivation to leave her tedious life in retail for a career path in the trades. She applies to Imperial Valley as an apprentice carpenter, which stresses Todd out and disrupts the flow of his crew. It only gets more complicated when Audrey strikes up a special friendship with Chelsea, and tensions rise between the tradespeople and management. But what started out as rivalry between Todd and Chelsea slowly becomes common ground as Todd realizes he might be the only pipe-fitter in town who can stop an extinction event which threatens every citizen in Imperial Valley.

Anthony Robles is a three-time all-American wrestler, the 2011 NCAA National Wrestling Champion, and a Nike-sponsored athlete. He was also born without his right leg. Doctors could not explain to his mother, Judy, what led to the birth defect, but at the age of five, the one-legged toddler scaled a fifty-foot pole unassisted. From that moment on, Judy knew without a doubt that her son would be unstoppable. When Anthony first began wrestling in high school, he was the smallest kid on the team and finished the year in last place. Yet Anthony's family and coaches supported his decision to continue, and he completed his junior and senior years with a 96 - 0 record to become a two-time Arizona State champion. In college, Anthony had to prove all over again that he could excel. Despite hardships on and off the mat—including the temptation to quit school and get a job to help his family when they lost their home to foreclosure - Anthony focused his determination and became a champion once again.

The Way Home is a family drama that follows the lives of three generations of women within the Landry family — and it comes with a time travel twist. Kat Landry, her 15-year-old daughter Alice and Kat's estranged mother Del (MacDowell) are all strong, willful and independent. More than 20 years prior, life-changing events created a chasm in their family that time has yet to repair. Kat and Del still aren't on speaking terms. Alice has never met her grandmother and is unaware of the reasons for their fractured family. When the three generations come together under one roof for the first time in more than two decades, a surprising discovery unexpectedly sets the trio on a path toward healing and helps them find their way back to each other.

Wednesday is a one-hour mystery drama charting Wednesday Addams' misadventures as student at Nevermore Academy: a very unique boarding school snuggled in deepest New England. Without ever blunting her bite, the show offers the chance to humanize Wednesday. After getting kicked out of eight schools in five years Willa is beginning a new chapter in her life at the academy, the two century old boarding school attended by her parents. However, Willa wants nothing to do with their alma mater and she's already planning her escape. But this academy is like no other school she's ever attended. its a school of outcasts with four groups - The Fangs (vampires), the Furs (werewolfs), the Scales (sirens) and the Stoners. It is also a place of mystery that holds dark secrets about her family's past. Season one will chart Wednesday's attempts to master her emerging psychic ability, thwart a monstrous killing spree that has terrorized the local town, solve the murder mystery that embroiled her parents 25 years ago and confront a dark supernatural threat — all while navigating her new and very tangled relationships at Nevermore. Follows a number of visitors vacationing at The White Lotus, an exclusive resort. Over the span of a two weeks, a darker complexity emerges in these seemingly picture-perfect travelers, the hotel's cheerful employees and the idyllic locale itself. Season 3 checks out of Italy and will center a different group of vacationers as they book their stay in Thailand at another White Lotus property and settle in temporarily amongst its inhabitants.

Based on the character of Wonder Man, one of Marvel's oldest characters, first introduced in 1964 in the pages of Avengers No 9. Known as Simon Williams, a celebrity actor and stuntman. In a nutshell, it is a story of two actors struggling to make it in the Hollywood of the MCU. We're asking the big question like what does Hollywood look like in a world where super heroes are real? it's a love letter to LA and the industry, while also leaving open the possibility of satire and a deeper look inside show business.
